Come November, the former Le Méridien at Beverly Hills will emerge from its renovation cocoon as the SLS Hotel at Beverly Hills. Designed by Philippe Starck and Theresa Fatino, chief creative officer of SLS parent company SBE Hotel Group, the Hills hot spot will combine sleek and chic guestrooms with a labyrinthlike bazaar experience in the communal spaces. "The public areas will be engaging and rich in material and subject matter," Fatino says. "[There will be] unique dining experiences, shopping moments and surprises of delight." This SLS is just the first of SBE's new brand; look for others to pop up in Mexico and the Caribbean. 323.655.8000, www.slshotels.com.

10 Years and Running ^

The Hotel Monaco Denver is celebrating its 10th anniversary in style by giving a select few guests the opportunity to book a lavish, action-packed weekend. The hotel's Decadent Decade Package, which carries a price tag of $10,000, includes a two-night stay and such opulent extras as a private tour of the Denver Art Museum, spa treatments for two (gold facial, anyone?), dinner at Panzano's private chef's table and on-demand limo service. Plus, you get to take home the John Lennon lyrics currently hanging in the hotel suite named after the former Beatle. Only two packages will be sold. 800.990.1303, www.monaco-denver.com.

A facial's nice, but a full-body facial is even better. The Stoneleigh Indulgent Head-to-Toe Body Facial (80 minutes, $225) at Dallas's The Spa at The Stoneleigh Hotel will have every inch of your epidermis as good as new thanks to a total exfoliation courtesy of an organic scrub, acid peels and microdermabrasion. 800.921.8498, www.stoneleighhotel.com.
